Introduce Law To End Bill Discount

An amendment to the water collection ordinance which will eliminate the 25-cent per month discount for early payment of city water bills was introduced before the city council Tuesday night.

The amendment also provides for a 25 per cent higher water rate for areas outside the Daly City limits.

Elimination of the water bill discount was proposed by the council last spring as a means to bring in more than $10,000 a year in revenue.

The discount is given to all residents who pay their water bills before the fifteenth of the month following receipt of the bill. Since billing is bi-monthly, the discount amounts to a saving of 50 cents to individual users each time they pay the bill.

While there was nothing included in the amendment which would grant a reduced water rate

YULE MAILING AT DC POST OFFICE IS HIGHEST EVER

The Daly City post office broke all records this year in Christmas mailing, according to Postmaster Vincent Murphy. Christmas receipts were up more than 26 per cent over last year, with $45,108.72 taken in this year and $36,803.19 received in 1954.

Murphy said that Daly City residents bought over 2,000,000 two and three cent stamps, while last year slightly over 1,500,000 stamps were sold.

Outgoing mail totaled 1,300,000 pieces, while incoming mail reached 40,000 packages and 5,000,000 letters.

Busiest day for the post office staff was December 15 when 98,000 pieces of outgoing mail were handled. Peak day last year was December 20 with 83,875 mailing items. The postmaster commented that this statistic points out the early Christmas mailing, much in evidence this year.

To handle the rush, the post office hired 84 temporary employees to assist the 55-man regular staff and added 10 trucks to their regular four vehicles.

Murphy said that because of the "wonderful job" done by his crew, the recent storm caused no delay even during the worst part.

The storm, however, did create adverse working conditions with phones out three days this week at the main branch and lights out last Tuesday morning at the Westlake branch. Murphy said that the light situation was solved by the Daly City fire department who installed emergency power.

The Town Record

By MONTE DAYTON

A 60-pound shepherd dog this week became the first canine to spend the evening in the Daly City jail.

Mrs. L. BERISTIANOS, 21 Gambetta, reported Tuesday night that a dog had followed her daughter home.

Having a San Francisco license and listed to an owner whose phone was out, the dog had to be kept here.

But the road to the Daly City pound was mired down in mud, so they couldn't take the animal there.

The displaced canine was also too big to billet overnight in the

Cops Arrest Vickers On Drunk Charge

Sanford Vickers, Daly City councilman, was arrested early Tuesday morning by San Francisco police and charged with being drunk in a public place. Vickers, 44, 155 Abbot avenue, forfeited $5 bail in San Francisco municipal court later the same day.

Arrested with the councilman but released without bail were Anne Kirchhubel, 54, 57 Hillcrest drive, and Dessie Burke, 46, 471 Irvington street. Police said the two women also were booked on charges of being drunk in a public place.

The arrests were made after Mrs. Kirchhubel and Mrs. Burke complained to officers at the Ingleside police station at 2:40 a.m. The women led police to Vickers who was sitting in a parked car in front of 81 Ottawa street.

The councilman told officers that he had been drinking at Kirchhubel's tavern, 6296 Mission street, until closing time when he suggested that the two women accompany him to get something to eat.

While in the auto, the trio apparently began to argue and the two women left with the ignition keys, police said.

Childers Home Wins 1st Prize In BPOA Yule Decor Contest

First prize winner in the Broadmoor Property Owners association Christmas home decoration contest is Donald Childers, 840 Wildwood avenue, it was announced today by Ed Lee, chairman of the event. Childers will be awarded $50.

Runner up in the contest is Anthony Carmona, 1851 Louvaine drive, who was awarded $25; while third place winner is D. Coppola, 457 88th street, awarded $15.

Judges, who disqualified their own homes, were Mrs. Mary Ann Read, Jay Walter Thomas and A. Grant Holman.

Named as the six $10 award winners were Vincent Murphy, 516 Midway; Douglas Cramm, 1023 Nimitz; Ed Sheeley, 1151

Donations For Flood Victims Accepted At Two DC Firehouses

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy announced today that donations of blankets, clothes and canned food will be accepted for flood victims at both local firehouses. Articles will then be turned over to the Salvation Army.

Eight truck loads of items have already been collected here, Kennedy said.

Firehouses are located at 499 Santa Barbara avenue and 50 Lake Merced boulevard.

Also conducting a flood relief program is the Red Cross, San Mateo county chapter, which will accept monetary donations mailed to 1449 Belleview avenue, Burlingame.

NAME 2 WESTLAKERS TO PERSONNEL BOARD

Two residents of the Westlake area were named this week to fill newly-created positions on the Daly City personnel board, formerly known as the civil service board of review.

Appointed to the board Tuesday night by Councilman Edward J. Dennis were Starr Dunham, 80 Cliffside drive, and Paul Hupf, 648 North Mayfair avenue.

Dunham is president of the Westlake Improvement association and is a vice president with a San Francisco type foundry, while Hupf is an attorney in San Francisco.

The two appointments brought to five the number of commission jobs which have been filled by the council in the past three weeks. Of the five persons appointed, four were from the Westlake area.

Prior to Tuesday's appointments, an ordinance was introduced before council which will increase the number of persons on the personnel board from three to five and which formally changes the name of that group from the civil service board of review to the personnel board.

Tell Three-Point Program To Start Library Branch

In an effort to see the realization of a Westlake library branch, the city council Tuesday night approved a three-step program which included:

1. Voted to remain in the county library program to take advantage of cataloguing and personnel services.

2. Authorized City Manager Howard Stites to negotiate with Henry Doelger for purchase of property in Westlake on which to locate the library.

3. Directed Stites to see if he could rent an area in Westlake suitable for a temporary branch library until the building is completed.

The three councilmen present, Mayor Joseph Verducci, Edward Dennis and Del Wilson, were unanimous in approving the last two policies, but Wilson opposed remaining with the county library, stating, "I don't like delays. We must start out on our own some time and we should break away now."

Wilson made a motion that the contract with the county for library services be eliminated but his motion died for lack of second.

The library commission last week unanimously recommended the city remain with the county.

WESTLAKE LIBRARY branch is shown here in drawing prepared by Daly City library commission. Under commission's proposal, facility would cost an estimated $75,000. Council Tuesday night authorized City Manager Howard Stites to negotiate with Henry Doelger for purchase of a Westlake site, and also directed Stites to secure building which could be rented as temporary library branch until the proposed project is completed. Proposal to withdraw from the county library system in order to gain further tax funds for local use was rejected in a 2-1 vote.

STUDY PLAN TO GIVE INJURED DC EMPLOYEES PAY

City Manager Howard Stites said Tuesday night he would study a request by Daly City Civil Service Employees association that employees injured in industrial accidents receive full pay up to one year.

Police and firemen already receive this benefit, but John Walsh, president of the employees, urged that this compensation be extended to all municipal workers.

The case came up two weeks ago when Walsh asked full compensation for John Haley, a water department worker who was injured while on duty October 5 and has not worked since. Haley, Walsh said, has had to subsist on his state compensation of $40 a week.

Stites said that there is no provision in state law for such compensation, but that it could be in-

SPECIAL DRAINAGE DISTRICT PROPOSED

Possibility of a north San Mateo county drainage assessment district which would include Broadmoor and a large portion of Daly City loomed Tuesday following action by the county board of supervisors.

The board approved motion of Thomas Callan Sr. of Colma to instruct the county manager and engineer to survey the drainage needs of the northern county with formation of a special taxing district in mind. Recent severe floods in Broadmoor prompted the action by the supervisors.

Callan said all property contributing to what he termed the "Lake Merced run off" would be included in the district.

Before all or any part of Daly City could be included in the district either the city council or the voters would have to approve the action, according to County Clerk John A. Bruning.

Argue Transfer Of Tax Job, Assessing To SM County

CITY REPORT SAYS MOVE ECONOMICAL

A survey comparing tax assessment policies of Daly City and San Mateo county, believed to be the first major effort of its kind here, was released for publication this week by City Manager Howard Stites.

The study is prefaced with the remark that, "It is presumed to be obvious that the City of Daly City would obtain a substantial advantage by relinquishing its assessment and tax collecting functions to the county, on contract."

However, it qualifies this by saying, "It is merely the purpose of this study to discover reasons why it might not be desirable for the county to assume these activities."

An important observation in the study was that the total assessment of Daly City is only four per cent below the amount assessed in Daly City by San Mateo county, recent state research revealed. According to the state, this is one of the lowest city-county differentials to be found in California.

Use Samples

The comprehensive study used as samples of assessing 10 blocks of single dwellings, one block of income property and three commercial areas.

In Daly City it was noticed that the city's assessment in one family dwellings is somewhat less than the amount assessed by the county on these same dwellings.

This lag in assessing residential development, according to the survey, is made up in the city's commercial and income property assessments, meaning these last two categories must bear the burden of taxes here.

While the tax savings to homeowners under the somewhat lower assessments is almost negligible, the survey relates, when multiplied by all the residences in Daly City they amount to a "considerable

Judge Takes More Time To Review Firing Of DC Cop

Superior Judge Edmund Scott has "re-submitted" the case of fired Daly City police inspector David Johnstone Jr.

Scott, who had announced he would give his decision in 90 days after taking the appeal under submission September 22, re-submitted the case for a matter of his own record in order to obtain more time to read the civil service board of review transcript of the case.

The council fired Johnstone May 23 for "association with known gamblers" and "failure to inform superior officers of all investigations." After three hearings, the civil service board of review voted unanimously for Johnstone's reinstatement, but the council upheld its original dismissal.

John J. Fahey, attorney for Johnstone, appealed the firing.

In re-submitting the case, Judge Scott has allowed himself approximately 90 days more in which to read the hearing transcripts, at which time he is expected to announce his decision.

ANOTHER LOCAL TAXI COMPANY SEEKS PERMIT

Application from a Westlake resident to start a second taxi cab company in Daly City was referred to the city attorney by the city council Tuesday, and date for public hearing on the proposal will be established.

Applicant was George Mountanos, 757 Beechwood drive, who said his business address would be 189 Southgate avenue.

Mountanos was one of several persons subpoenaed to appear as witnesses in the hearing for fired Daly City police inspector David Johnstone Jr. on June 17. He was never called to the stand, however.

Mountanos said he would operate five five-passenger vehicles 24 hours a day on the line, which would be known as Westlake Taxi Co.

At present only one firm, Daly City Hilltop Cab Co., has permit to operate in Daly City. Two years ago an application to start a second cab firm was denied by the council.

In other action Tuesday the council denied claims from George Buell, 1839 Louvaine drive, Broadmoor, and his son, Dennis, amounting to $1250 for burns the child allegedly suffered because of negligence on the part of city employees.

The claim stated that on October 20 Dennis Buell, 5, fell into a fire on Edgeworth near 90th street which was left unattended by Daly City and San Mateo county employees.

The claims were referred to City Attorney Frank Blum.

CITIZENS HOLD FOR STATUS QUO

It was old home week at the council chambers Monday night when the council took up a proposal to turn municipal tax collecting and property assessment over to the county.

The plan to contract with the county for these services at an approximate cost of $3000 a year was read by City Manager Howard Stites, from an extensive survey compiled by Stites and his staff.

He said the savings realized by turning these duties over to the county would amount to between $5000 and $10,000 a year. The city clerk's office now acts as ex-officio tax collector and assessor.

First to speak against Stites plan was Edmund Cavagnaro, former city councilman and new recreation commission chairman.

Cavagnaro said, "I'm not satisfied with the county set-up. They used to come up here and collect taxes but now a citizen either has to go to Redwood City or mail his taxes in. The city clerk's work has been very satisfactory."

Castelan Speaks

Julius Castelan, former city engineer, then arose. As he started to speak, Mayor Joseph Verducci demanded that he identify himself for the record.

"You know me, don't you?" Castelan retorted.

"Give us your name for the record," Verducci repeated.

"Don't you know me?" Castelan taunted.

Castelan finally identified himself, and inquired of Stites, "Your report says the assessed valuation

IMPAIRING DALY CITY'S HOME RULE

A voluminous study released this week by the city attempts to show why the tax collecting and assessing functions now handled by the city clerk's office should be turned over to the county of San Mateo.

The survey purports that such a transfer of duties would result in savings of $5000 to $10,000 a year, inasmuch as the county would contract for the services at an annual cost of $3000, while the work now must be handled by the city clerk and two assistants.

It further relates that Daly City would be assured of an "equitable assessment policy."

It is our opinion that if the survey in any way shows the county's assessments to be equitable in fact, it is purely a coincidence.

We have long been critical of the county assessment machinery, which is underpowered and unable to function in a manner that is just to residents of northern San Mateo county.

The county's inability to handle its present assessment chores certainly does not qualify it to take on new duties.

The savings supposedly resulting from the transfer of tax collecting and assessing to the county would probably turn out to be NIL, while Daly City's home rule would be further impaired by county government that is already not "too hot," so to speak.

Furthermore, it would mean increased taxation for each and every home owner, all the soft soap to the contrary notwithstanding.

Remember—every survey, every extra-curricular act of a governing body costs YOU the taxpayer M O N E Y ! Why not keep our own autonomy—elect our own tax assessing officials as we have always done—and if it is necessary to make changes DO IT OURSELVES!

Maybe what we need is a little more interest in local affairs. Whenever a city turns over any part of its autonomy to a county or state governing body it not only becomes the nether end of the dog but that end wears a short bob.

pound truck.

As a last resort, he was hustled off to a warm dry Daly City jail cell, where he stayed with other patrons of the bastile whose presences were explained on the book by "release when sober." These fellows wished he had been a St. Bernard.

WILLIAM FITZPATRICK, city purchasing agent, dropped this department a card stating, "I was surprised to learn in your column of last week that I am not a resident of Daly City. It was quite a shock. I always thought Westlake was part of Daly City."

We are happy to report that Westlake is still within the corporate limits. That item of last week about new city employees being hired from outside Daly City was not a first-hand observation, but a claim of one old-timer who says he'll lead a recall movement against the council. Evidently the pioneer was a little mixed up on his facts.

Storm aftermath: Local churches, including Broadmoor Presbyterian and Vista Grande Avenue Christian, as well as Boy Scouts and local merchants have proved the front line of civil defense here as a result of floods which wrought more than trivial damage here and staggering losses elsewhere throughout the state.

Ray-Al's clothing at 6201 Mission street is the receiving depot for the DC flood relief program. Warm clothing and blankets are needed because 26 degree temperatures are expected in the Yuba area.

Clothing contributed will reach the disaster area in less than 48 hours. Clothing is being gathered by Salvation Army and will be distributed through the facilities of the Red Cross.

Recreation Director JAMES MASON is still ailing with a slight case of stomach flu, but is expected back next week.

That classified advertising in THE RECORD publications pays off but good is testified to by this incident:

A party advertised a car radio for sale.

A prospective buyer arrived. He liked the radio but liked the car just as much, wound up buying the whole works.

When man bites dog, that's news, and similarly, so is it news when a boy runs into a car.

A victim of just such a happenstance Monday was Bill Ryan, 14, of 153 Miriam street, who ran straight into a vehicle on Mission near Hillside boulevard.

HUGH SMITH SR., former DC mayor, was operated on Tuesday for a stomach ulcer at St. Helena sanitarium in Napa county.

He was up out of bed the next day, and is expected to be home in about a week.

He was confined at the sanitarium two weeks, as the operation was postponed twice because of the floods.

Councilman EDWARD DENNIS received a word of thanks this week from his friend Berkeley Councilman JEFFERY COHELAN.

The Berkeley officials are considering adopting a dog ordinance, and they'll pattern it after Daly City's, which Ed had forwarded to Cohelan.

ACADEMIC UTOPIA IN THE FOOTHILLS

Many Daly City residents probably do not realize that they are part of a taxing entity known as the San Mateo Junior College district.

Taxes levied in this district go to support a junior college in San Mateo which has an enrollment of 2638 students of which only 57 are from Daly City.

Few residents know that this city contributes approximately $105,000 every year to help this school operate. The tax rate is 35 cents per $100 assessed valuation, meaning that it's just about one-fourth the amount paid each year to operate municipal government. For a homeowner whose property is assessed at $3000, taxes to support the college amount to $10.50 a year, a sizeable chunk of the annual tax contribution in San Mateo county...enough of a contribution to create some interest on the part of the payer.

Currently there rages a controversy over whether to construct a multi-million dollar dream campus on 19th avenue high in the foothills above San Mateo ,or go for a less ostentatious plan which includes development of present campuses at the Delaware and Coyote point sites.

While Daly City sends only 57 students to this institution, it has a heavy interest in these goings-on from a standpoint of taxation.

Frankly, we don't go along with either plan.

Last week in this newspaper one of the college district trustees was quoted as favoring a branch campus in the north end of the county, which would be within easy driving distance of Daly City.

This, to us, would be a thousandfold better way to spend the money than this academic utopia which would be nestled in the hills and virtually constructed on a foundation of citizens' hard-earned specie.

Daly City could then send more students to be educated, while at the same time continue paying the present taxation rate, or even a lower one.

A $9,200,000 bond issue, redeemable at the going rate of interest, and an inaccessible cluster of buildings in the hinterlands is the prospect greeting taxpayers of Daly City on the 19th avenue campus plan.

Holdup Man Takes Shot At Grocery Store Owner Here

A local grocery store owner dodged a bullet shot by a bandit who robbed him of $1600 Friday afternoon. The incident occurred as August Bredehoft, 42, owner of the Randolph market, was returning from the Bank of America at San Jose and Mission streets to his store at 345 Randolph street.

Bredehoft told police that he had just picked up enough money for weekend transactions and was walking back to his store when a car pulled along side of him on Shakespeare street. A youth, described by Bredehoft as the "Latin type," approached him and drew a .32 caliber revolver.

"Give me the money," the thug ordered. "I just saw you come out of the bank."

Bredehoft said he handed the gunman his wallet, and the hold-up man started to leave. Another man, seated behind the wheel of the car, told his companion to get the remainder of Bredehoft's money.

The store owner handed over a money sack hidden under his coat.

The robber turned and ran up Shakespeare street, the car following alongside. Bredehoft told officers he began to shout and run after the thief when the thug suddenly turned and shot at him.

Bredehoft said he continued his chase, but the robber jumped in the car and the vehicle sped down the street.

A local painter was charged with being drunk in and about an automomile early Wednesday morning when he allegedly crashed his car into a gas pump at Westlake Auto Service, 6448 Mission street.

Police Officer John Brohman said he was standing near the station when he heard a loud crash and saw Jack Leon Mullikin, 455 B street, alight from a car which had plowed into the pump.

Judge Thomas L. Bocci set bail at $100 cash or $200 bond.

Council Approves Expenditure For Assessment Study

City council Tuesday night approved appropriation of $600 from the contingency fund to pay for a study on assessment practices in Daly City and San Mateo county.

The study, which will be presented to the council at their next regular meeting, relates advantages of contracting with the county for assessing and tax collecting, now done by the city clerk's office.

Of the $600, $300 will go to George Pingry, state right of way agent and local planning commissioner, for assessing work, while remainder will go to William Fitzpatrick, purchasing agent, and Merton C. Fesler, student, for work connected with the survey.

In other financial transactions Tuesday, the council transferred $440 from the contingency fund to the parking meter fund to cover cost of a new three-wheel motorcycle used in handling parking meter collections.

Transfer of $5000 from contingency fund to the street department capital outlay fund for work on First and Valley street storm drains was also approved.

The council also approved reimbursing the general fund in the amount of $12,028.82 from the water revenue construction bond fund.

STRANGER SLUGS SF MAN ON DC STREET

A bloody nose was suffered by a 28-year-old San Francisco mechanic early Monday morning when he asked an auto driver to move his car on the right side of the street so he could move his own vehicle.

Police said victim of the assault was Chuck Benoit, 28, 86 Restani street, San Francisco.

Benoit told officers that he was attempting a right turn from Mission onto Flournoy street when another car blocked his way. When he asked the driver to move, the driver replied, "So what. Pull around me," Benoit related.

He said the driver then alighted from his car and struck Benoit in the face, giving him a bloody nose, and then drove off.

Police are checking the license number of the attacker's car.

Eagles Auxiliary No. 1848 Founded Eight Years Ago

Editor's note: This is the sixth of a series of articles on local women's organizations. THE RECORD will feature each women's club listed in our files in alphabetical order.

On April 18, 1948, Colma Vista Grande Auxiliary 1848 of the Fraternal Order of Eagles was organized. Mrs. Dora Black was the organizer of the Auxiliary and the Charter was signed by 164 members. First installation was held in the Masonic Hall in Daly City, and Mrs. Black was made the first Past President and Dorothy Johnson Ballou was installed as the first Madam President.

Both outside and inside drill teams were started and each in their own rights have excelled. The outside drill team entered many competitions and won cups, ribbons and several cash prizes. Mrs. Marge Kennedy was the first captain of the inside drill team, better known to the members as the Escort Team, and at present Mrs. Eileen DeBano is captain.

Winning Bowlers

The auxiliary has sponsored a bowling team, made up of members with Mrs. Donna Almquist as captain. They have been in Summer and Winter leagues and have won numerous trophys and cups.

Auxiliary Sewing Club's chairman has always been Mrs. Mary Voboril. The club's pet project is rolling and sending bandages to a Leper Colony in Africa. The Sewing Club also does quite a bit of handwork which is used at the whist games as prizes, and at the annual bazaar.

Monthly Whists

Monthly whists are held on every third Thursday evening at 8:30 p.m. at the Eagles Hall, 3344 San Jose avenue, Daly City. Proceeds enable the auxiliary to carry out welfare work, included in which are Community Chest, Red Cross, Damon Runyon Cancer Fund, Cerebral Palsy, Tuberculosis Drive, Polio Foundation and the Girl Scouts. Proceeds of the most recent November Whist went to the National Muscular Dystrophy drive, national project of Eagles auxiliaries.

Members have adopted a family which they help throughout the year. In conjunction this year with Operation Santa Claus, the auxiliary donated many Christmas baskets and toys. Mrs. Freda Pedersen is welfare chairman.

Letterman Project

For five years homemade cookies have been taken to the Letterman hospital in San Francisco by Veterans Chairman Mrs. Lee O'Neill and her committee. Every year a Christmas party is given by the auxiliary at the hospital. Entertainment, gifts, fruit, candy and refreshments are provided by members.

The first baby born to a member after the auxiliary was organized was Kathy Brush, daughter of Mrs. Barbara Brush. She is known as the "auxiliary's baby" and a birthday party is held in her honor every year.

It is not "all work and no play" for members of the auxiliary. Their meetings, which are held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month, are enlightened by entertainment and refreshments served by Refreshment Chairman Dolly Lewkowitz.

Members always look forward to the celebration of the auxiliary's birthday dinner. This dinner is held at a prominant restaurant in the month of April every year.

The Auxiliary is a member of the League For Better Schools and the San Mateo Visiting Nurses Association.

Present officers are President Phyllis Lane, Vice President Eva Grubb, Chaplain Irene Scally, Conductress Henrietta Snyder, Inside Guard Mary Voboril, Outside Guard Marie Clause, Secretary Alberta Diebel, Treasurer Helen Sievers, Trustees Frieda Pedersen, Lynn Boskey and Marge Crompton, Musician Virginia Tabarez, Jr. Past Madam President Mildred Dunn, and Auxiliary Mother Mrs. Clara Scally.

Two For Tonight

By Leonore Brewer

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS TO:

Abbott and Abrams, whose production of "Twelfth Night" has made their record new three tries, three hits and no duds.

We decided to deliver our greetings in person to Marjorie (Mrs. Norman) Werby, a local resident, who plays the role of Olivia in "Twelfth Night." The day we called on her was the worst of the recent storm and as we were blown up to her front door, there was a cat waiting on the doorstep. When Marjorie opened the door, accompanied by a sleek black and white cat, we immediately felt simpatico with her and this feeling set the atmosphere for a delightful interview.

Outside her house, a studio built by a prominent Bay Area artist, all was wild and blowy and wet. Inside was the peace and elegance of Eighteenth Century France. You're probably more interested in Marjorie's past experience in the theater than in how her house is furnished, but we were so fascinated by the floor plan of the house, the antiques, the collection of fans, the beautiful books and the cats, Anatol and Igor, that by the time we tell you about all this, there will be very little space left for her theatrical life. This includes the Educational Theater at the University of San Francisco, the State College and early training at the Theatre Arts, the location that has now been taken over by Abbott and Abrams.

Varied Roles

While looking at some colored slides taken at the dress rehearsal of "Twelfth Night," we chatted about her past roles and future plans. The former are quite varied: Amanda in the "Glass Menageries." Mrs. Malaprop in Sheridan's "The Rivals," Zenita in "He Who Gets Slapped," and Lady Macbeth. The future is a bit vague at present, and when we asked her what role she would particularly enjoy, she laughed and said that there are so many that it is almost impossible to name one, except that she would like to do Lady Macbeth again. She feels that she now could bring to the role a greater understanding and maturity of interpretation.

Looking around the house, we commented on how beautifully it is decorated for Christmas. Marjorie said that the ideas were hers, but were executed by her husband who is a free-lance artist and a member of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce. The most prominent decoration is an enormous spray of mistletoe combined with Christmas ribbon and long silver icicles, which hangs from a corner of the twenty-foot high living room ceiling.

Artistic Collaboration

Throughout the house are other examples of the collaboration of this artistic team, one a very impressive mural in the dining room. Inspired by the red figures on some museum vases, Marjorie designed and Norman executed a mural which tells three stories from the Age of Fable.

We hope that our readers will find time to attend "Twelfth Night" which reopens at 1725 Washington street, San Francisco, on January 5. As they watch Olivia sweeping across the stage, trailing clouds of illusion, they will share our pride in having so promising a young actress for a neighbor.

MRS. ANDERSON TO PLEA ON 2nd ABORTION COUNT

Mrs. Alta Anderson, 57, indicted on two counts of operating an abortion mill at her home, 590 Washington street, Broadmoor, will appear in Judge Edmund Scott's superior court Monday to enter plea to the second charge.

Mrs. Anderson and her daughter, Mae Rodley, 38, of 435 B street, Colma, who was indicted with her mother on the first count, will appear for jury trial on January 16 at 9:30 a.m. in Judge Scott's court.

Both women were indicted by the grand jury on November 21 after a raid on the Broadmoor home by Broadmoor police and district attorneys of San Francisco and San Mateo counties. A San Francisco housewife was said to have been instrumental in exposing the alleged operation, claiming illegal surgery was performed on her at the home.

A second witness who said she had undergone an abortion at the Anderson home led to the second indictment of Mrs. Anderson.

Both women have been subpoenaed to testify at the trial, along with Broadmoor police and other investigating officers.

Stranger Steals $15 From His Benefactor

Apparently not satisfied with $3 given him Monday by Albert Gallagos, owner of Estrada's Kitchen, a stranger walked into the restaurant later the same day and took off with a cash box containing $15.

Gallagos told Broadmoor police a short, stocky negro entered his restaurant at 7440 Mission street and asked for a handout. After giving him $3, the stranger reappeared, hid the cash box under his overcoat and fled.

State Motor Vehicle Department Mails License Statements

SACRAMENTO — License renewal statements have been mailed to 5,300,000 California automobile owners.

The statements, in the form of pre-punched cards, contain the owner's name, make and type of car, and the amount of the 1956 registration and license plate fees.

The 1956 renewal period will be from January 3 through February 4, both for applicants who send in their fees by mail and those who renew in person at the more than 200 permanent and temporary offices of the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

The pre-punched fee statements for private autos were used in California for the first time in the 1955 renewal, replacing the "white slips" of former years. As in the 1955 renewal period, vehicle owners again are being cautioned by Motor Vehicles Director Paul Mason to:

1—Fill in the stub, or right-hand portion of the card to correspond with the name and address printed on the left-hand portion, typed or printed. When an error has been made in the printing, correct the error and fill in the stub properly.

2—Do not detach the stub, either when mailing fees to the Department or when presenting the card and fees in person to a Motor Vehicles office. In every case, the entire card must be submitted.

Similar statements of fees due on commercial vehicles and trailers, numbering more than 1,250,000, were mailed from Sacramento December 1.

"A surprising number of commercial and trailer owners are doing the very thing we keep asking them not to do," Director Mason reported. "Many are detaching the stub and mailing in only the larger, left-hand portion of the cards."

"This means a delay of up to two weeks in processing the cards and returning the stubs to the owners. It is especially difficult in the case of owners who remit their fees by personal check. Collection procedure requires the Department to wait 21 days before forwarding registration certificates of persons who pay by personal check. The reason for this is to give the Department time to deposit the checks and clear them through the banks."

Mason reminded motorists that the stub is detached from the cards and returned to serve as the 1956 vehicle registration card, after the fees are paid.

Temporary renewal stations in 100 banks in metropolitan areas will be authorized to issue plates for private passenger cars only this year, he added. "Renewals may be applied for at bank stations only with the pre-punched statements mailed from Sacramento for autos. In recent years trucks and trailers have aiso been registered at banks. This year there will not be space for storing the plates for more than private cars at such stations."

Auto club and association members may register through their organizations during the same period.

PLAN TO HANDLE SCHOOL STREET DRAINAGE PROPOSED

Ed Garibaldi, owner of property on the south side of School street just east of the railroad tracks, proposed a project to the city council Tuesday night which he said would eliminate the drainage problem in that area.

Garibaldi said he would install 200 feet of 24 inch pipe to carry runoff, which has been eroding the land more seriously with each successive rain.

City's part of the project would include installation of a catch basin on School street to handle the flow.

According to Garibaldi, when the drainage problem is curbed he will be able to level the land and make it available for free parking.

Councilmen said they would vote on Garibaldi's proposal at the next regular meeting.

ALDO SICK: TRIAL ON MOLESTING IS SET OVER TO JAN. 26

Aldo, who lives at 498 North Parkview, was arrested for two alleged incidents occuring on October 10 and 18.

The district attorney's office was granted motion to continue the trial to January 26 in the hope that Aldo will be sufficiently recovered to appear.

TV and Radio

By Mona Baker

As the old year draws to a close, many people pause and look back briefly over the accomplishments of the past year . . . . and then ahead to what the new year will bring. We felt it might be of interest to recall a few of the past year's milestones in the progress of television and radio, and then look into a crystal ball and see what is in store for viewers and listeners in the year of 1956.

One of the outstanding accomplishments in 1955 we feel is the great improvement in the quality of children's television programs. Such outstanding productions as "Let's Take a Trip" (KPIX), "Buckskin Bob" (KQED), "Mickey Mouse Club" and "Disneyland" (KGO-TV) are good examples of children's programs that are informative as well as entertaining.

Another Milestone

Another milestone is the tremendous strides made by color television with such magnificent productions by NBC over KRON-TV as the colorcast of "Peter Pan," "Alice in Wonderland," "Sleeping Beauty" and many other beautiful and exciting productions during the past year. Football also was telecast in color for the first time during 1955.

Radio too, made progress with the change of the whole conception of broadcasting by the advent of the fine NBC weekend show "Monitor" broadcast over KNBC.

Stations came up, too, with some impressive statistics to indicate progress. KRON-TV reports that a total of 1,171,960 black and white TV receivers were estimated to be in operation in KRON-TV coverage area as of the first of November. KQED reports that they have an audience of 266,000 homes, according to results of a survey just released by a special citizen's committee. "The California Hayride," KOVR-TV's popular local telecast, is scheduled to move into larger quarters in order to accommodate the large crowds that have been attending the telecasts. The first program of the new year will originate from the hugh San Mateo Fiesta building which will handle seating for 6000 people.

30,000,000 See Ballet

An example of extensive coverage of television, NBC reports that more than 30,000,000 viewers witnessed the Sadler's Wells Ballet telecast of "Sleeping Beauty," which was 60 times greater than combined audiences on the company's U. S. and Canadian Tours. Carlsbad Caverns National Park, New Mexico, which has been visited by a little more than 7 million people in all the years since it first opened, was seen by an estimated 30 million viewers when it was featured on NBC-TV's "Wide Wide World" required a total of 1,800 technicians, and 65 cameras were utilized to take viewers over 33,380 electronic miles covering three countries and part of the Gulf of Mexico.

Looking into 1956 we are confident that children's television programs will continue to improve. NBC has planned more spectaculars for the new year including a repeat of Peter Pan (KRON-TV, Jan. 9, 4:30 p.m.) Colored television will continue to make great strides with more families owning colored sets. Altogether we can expect programs in the new year to be as exciting and impressive as the year past.

BOILER ROOM FIRE CAUSES $3500 LOSS

Estimated damage of $3500 was caused early Thursday morning when fire broke out in a hot house boiler room at 495 Price street.

Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy said that a slight delay in firemen reaching the scene resulted when a neighbor, seeing the flames, was too excited to give a coherent address when she called police.

Cause of the fire is unknown, the chief said. However, he pointed out that Ben Bicchetti, owner of the property, had recently changed from gas to oil heat. Damage was mostly to the building, Kennedy said, but included equipment and tools.

Bicchetti held no insurance on the boiler room, Kennedy said.

Kirchhubel Request To Display Bills Filed

Turned down by the council in a similar request November 28, bar owner George Kirchhubel again asked the city fathers Tuesday night to put all city bills on public display.

Kirchhubel said list of warrants for payments of bills could be reviewed by councilmen Friday night and then the warrants could be placed on a stand outside the council chambers for public scrutiny Monday night.

The tavern proprietor said display of the warrants was in the public interest, would allow airing of questionable bills before payment, would entail very little work and would relieve the city clerk's office of extra work.

The council, pointing out they had already voted on Kirchhubel's proposal at an earlier meeting, held no discussion on the issue and filed the letter for record.

At the author's request, the entire text of the letter was incorporated in the minutes.

Four juveniles who smashed a total of 140 Christmas tree lights decorating Broadmoor homes were caught and reprimanded by Broadmoor police this week. Only a week ago police apprehended two youths who confessed to breaking 100 tree lights in the Broadmoor area.

Parents of the juveniles promised that their sons would make restitution for damage.

The Woodrow Wilson PTA will be in charge of the salvage drive to be held January 12 to 19.

Westlake Scouts Combine Court Of Honor, Xmas Party

A combined court of honor and Christmas party last week highlighted the year's activities of Westlake Boy Scout Troop 248.

Scoutmaster Al Belotz and his assistant, Mel Wilner, conducted the court with assistance of the Scout committee. The court opened with candlelight investiture ceremonies during which Scouts received their tenderfoot badges and cards and in turn pinned miniature badges on their mothers. Receiving tenderfoot badges were: John Rice, Steven Attell, Richard Hanick, Vincent Ippolito, Timothy Pinelli, Walter McElroy and Alan Hanley.

Second class awards were then given to the following: David Bosbery, Ronald Laurie, James Pinelli, Kenneth Franges, John Moore and Frank Vlahovich.

First class awards were bestowed upon Bruce Wilson and Paul Hanley, who thus reached the half-way point toward their goal of Eagle Scout!

Announcement was made that Larry Tambor, formerly senior patrol leader, had been made acting junior assistant Scout master. Hanley will take his place as senior patrol leader and Dave Petterson will be new patrol leader.

Merit badge awards were presented to the following boys: James Pinelli, swimming, Mike Silverstein, personal fitness; Hanley, bee keeping and swimming; Wilson, stamp collecting, bee keeping, reptile study; and Tambor, swimming, surveying, rowing, canoeing, camping and life guard award.

Following the court, Scout diaries were distributed as Christmas gifts, while Belotz and Wilner were each given gifts from the Scouts and troop committee.

Serving of refreshments prepared by committee members' wives concluded the evening.

SAFETY NEWS

DRINKING PLUS DRIVING EQUALS DISASTER

In those words Inspector H. Sundermann today warned Daly City motorists of the danger of driving after drinking. This is more than just a slogan, Sundermann said. "It states a tragic truth that is proved repeatedly on our streets and highways."

Among drivers involved in fatal accidents last year, one out of five had been drinking.

According to the Inspector, the drinking walker fares a little worse in traffic than the drinking driver. He said National Safety Council figures show about one out of four pedestrians involved in fatal traffic accidents last year had been drinking.

Problem of the drinking driver and walker is a year round problem but it becomes more acute during the holiday season when party going is the order of the day.

He warned merrymakers to leave their cars and take a taxi home if they found they have imbided too freely. He also advised taxi transportation for drinking walkers. However, he said, few people are good judges of their own sobriety, so it's wise to leave your car at home when you're going to any party at which you're likely to be drinking.

LOCAL RESIDENTS MOP UP RESIDUE

Mop-up operations were in progress this week after the weeklong storm blew itself out early Monday morning. Most seriously damaged local areas were the north coastside, Westview and Broadmoor.

Meanwhile, county supervisors took steps toward preventing a recurrence of the floods in these areas and the Redwood City-Menlo Park locality. County Manager E. R. Stallings was instructed to study the possibility of forming a flood control district.

Stallings' pleas for the formation of a county-wide flood control program went unheeded by the supervisors.

The 400 block of 88th street in Broadmoor was under eight feet of water Monday morning. According to Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage, the muddy water entered houses on the block and made nearly a total wreck of a car parked in front of the Coppola home, 415 88th street.

Gus Davino nursery on 88th street was completely covered by water during the morning downpour, and potted plants were seen floating on the flood water.

Residue of mud is so thick that the fire department has been unable to hose it off, according to Savage. He declared that scraping operations would start today.

Junipero Serra underpass was blocked for three hours Monday morning due to the several feet of water blocking the way. Even after the water was drained off, county engineers worked clearing away mud.

Slides occurred at 1100 block of Nimitz and the 1600 block of Sweetwood.

Phone service was badly curtailed in all areas with many persons reporting they had no service through Tuesday.

Power was also effected although not as badly as during the strong winds last week.

North coastside residents were marooned Friday with Coast highway and Manor drive blocked to traffic because of slides.

Red Cross Disaster Funds Available For Flood Victims Here

Funds are available for northern San Mateo county residents who have suffered heavy losses because of flood damage and are unable to help themselves, according to Edward George, chairman of the Red Cross disaster relief fund in San Mateo county.

George said financial and other assistance would be given to those persons hardest hit by the floods and unable to handle the disaster with their own resources.

Persons needing aid should contact the Red Cross at DI 3-4561.

One of the nation's largest National Cemeteries is located in the Presidio of San Francisco.

Court St. Mary To Hold Whist Party

Court St. Mary, Catholic Daughters of America, will sponsor a public whist party on Thursday evening, January 5, at 8:30 p.m. It will be held in the Masonic Hall, 17 Hillcrest drive, Daly City.

Mrs. Clara Scally will head the committee for the January whist. Everyone is invited to attend the card game.

Next regular meeting of Court St. Mary will be held on January 5 at 7:30 p.m.

ESTIMATES ON NEW SCHOOL ROOF DIFFER IN COST

H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary school district, said today that repairs to the south wing roof at Westlake school would cost from $1200 to $1700. In contradiction to Weibel's statement, Peter Markovich, insurance adjustor, declared that minimum estimate would be $2700.

Markovich, president of North San Mateo County Insurance agents association which handles the district insurance, said that damage might run into $3500.

It appears unlikely that a new roof will be on the building by Tuesday when school opens, however, the superintendent emphasized the fact that a water-tight temporary roof is now in place.

Weibel declared that the loss of the roof brought no evident damage to the four classrooms underneath.

"Suddenly It's Spring" is the theme for the Westlake Catholic Women's second annual Luncheon and Fashion Show which will be presented on February 4, at the Fairmont hotel.

Spring will be in evidence throughout the Gold and Nob Hill rooms. Decorations are to be in shades of pink ranging from the palest to the deepest, complementing the mannequins who will display the first spring fashions of the new year.

Mrs. Walter McElroy, general chairman for the fashionable event, with the assistance of her co-chairman, Mrs. Richard Dwyer, has selected the committees. Decorations are being planned by Mrs. Richard English and Mrs. William Brown. Reservations may be obtained through Mrs. Francis Clifford and Mrs. Emory Nutting. Mrs. Joseph Shea and Mrs. George Comisky are working on Investment Sales. In charge of door prizes are Mrs. James Murphy and Mrs. Alfred Cleary. Mrs. John Weaver is program chairman, and Mrs. Victor Scatena and Mrs. Robert Martini are in charge of publicity.

Honorary chairman of the day is Father Richard Power, pastor of Our Lady of Mercy of Westlake. All proceeds will be used to help finance the new parochial school opened last fall under the direction of the Dominican Sisters of San Rafael.

DC MAN, 61, INJURED IN FALL ON STREET

WHAT'S DOING
Thomas R. Gilbert, your Telephone Manager in Daly City

1956 will be another big year in telephone progress

This coming year, we plan to put a record $385 million into new construction and service improvements to serve the Pacific West. We expect to add new equipment of all kinds to make your telephone service even better and to provide new service for the ever-growing number of people here. More lines to carry Long Distance calls and television programs; Direct Distance Dialing from more towns to places as far away as Philadelphia, Chicago and Milwaukee; more colored phones and hands-free Speakerphones. These are a very few of the many things in our continued program to keep pace with the growing West. In the year ahead you'll see plenty of reasons why we say—The men and women of Pacific Telephone work to make your telephone more useful every day.

Free planning service for homeowners

Are you thinking of building or remodeling in '56? If so, we suggest you include up-to-date telephone arrangements in your plans. Concealed wiring and built-in telephone outlets in each of the rooms you use a lot are low-cost features that add much to the "livability" and value of a home. And, of course, to your comfort and convenience as well. We'll be glad to help you with our free telephone planning service. Just call us and ask for "Architects and Builders Service".

Holiday greetings

All of us at the telephone company join in hoping that this Holiday Season is indeed a happy one for you and your family. We've enjoyed serving you during the past year, and hope we've done the kind of job you like. We're going to do our best to make your service even better in 1956. In the meantime, here's wishing you a healthy and prosperous New Year. Pacific Telephone.

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

PL 5-0679

A certain old gentlemen in a sleigh probably wondered why all the roofs in our two Villages looked so moth-eaten. Anyone could have told him it was a small tussle with a slight gale—so slight that it toppled over the Taylors' beautiful big evergreen tree (Nimitz), flattened fences for the Hagermans' (MacArthur) and Mattisons (Sweetwood), lowered the boom on a eucalyptus in a Stewart avenue back yard, and generally had itself a fine time juggling TV antennas. Of course, there were a lot more problems than these, but we have only so much space!

Practically every child's organization around had a Christmas party turn by turn all through the week before the best day of all, with the home candy caches reaching mammoth proportions. There was the music program at the Presbyterian church too, with three choirs singing through the glow of candles and the fragrance of pine branches. We were glad to meet Helen Whitehouse there—her first group outing after her long illness, and to see many others who came in spite of the weather.

Santas With Sirens

One of the best examples of the Christmas spirit we heard of was that of the Broadmoor police department, who toured the Villages and Sterling Park, giving candy and ice cream to the children who didn't make to their party. Santa Clauses with sirens! Not only that, but some of them took up a collection to buy gifts for one of our town's seriously ill children. Vi Murphy, who did the PD's (and half the other organization's around) shopping just happened to mention it in the drug store, wherewith Warren added another gift from that group. We hope that those who had a share in this thoughtfulness had an especially happy Christmas.

Over on Louvaine, the Kraus family had an open house, with friends coming from north, south and east, as well as neighbors from right around home. Marie, Henry and Karen greeted the Howard Richardsons, H. Z. Weibels, Bob Johnsons, Bob Goodwins, Mac McDonalds, Mario Ciampis and Marge and Sam Coward, who used to be Louvainites once upon some time ago.

Three Birthdays

Three of the mothers who, with all the rest, managed to cope with all the holiday extra work and excitement, took time out to enjoy their own birthdays. Addie Mattison on Sweetwood, Pat Stockslager on Ellis, and Agnes Sirianni on 87th Street were the Lucky Three.

Well, our fellow-columnist-that-was is now in her new home in San Mateo. There are a lot of people, we'll bet, who find Washington street a bit lonesome without Verna Duste and family, and we miss a certain Henry J which covered a lot of ground carrying Verna from friend to meeting to market, etc. It probably won't be long before she is busy with this and that project down yonder!

Another departing family are Ada and Roy Clemens, who expect to move down to the Cupertino area some time in January. Roy's work necessitated the move, as work will do. Broadmoor is losing two more people who have contributed a great deal to the work of its organizations, and a lot of friends aren't too happy about the move, either.

Baby Shower

A high chair and all sorts of clothes-to-grow-into were the gifts Nonette Swedberg received for son Mark at a shower recently. Her sister gave it at her mother's home in San Francisco, and family friends and friends from the office (UC Hospital) where Nonette used to work, were the gift-givers. 90th street representatives Kay and Judy Logan were there, too! At the moment, Nonette is wishing Mark would hurry up and grow into some of his new creepers. He is all of about two months old at the moment!

Have you noticed: the nice new car belonging to the Wittigs! It lives on Stoneyford when it isn't swishing through town. . . . The new haircut on our Dot Manis? Short and chic and very becoming! Speaking of Dot, all her friends down Village Lane way are very glad she is feeling so much better, after such a long seige with a painful back.

Odd Yule Gife

Oddest Christmas gift heard of was the one Kay Mullen received. She came home to Stoneyford one evening to find a perfectly strange car in her garage! Turned out to be one belonging to someone farther along the block, who had put it in a garage (not Kay's!) for repairs. The attendant brought it back, and left it at the wrong house!

Most elegant gift was the mink stole which Bud Hink gave wife Jean. We saw it since she lives on Maddux drive, and it is—well, it's what any woman dreams of when she dreams about having a mink stole of her own. She was even allowed to open it before Christmas, which gave her a few days to recover! We hope there are a lot of husbands reading this. Of course, that might make Bud a marked man! In order to rejoice properly about the whole thing, the Hinks gave a party, with Bud's family coming up from Burlingame, together with friends from San Mateo and South San Francisco.

More Birthdays

Young Mark Tannehill, over on Washington street, got into the swing of things by having a 4th birthday party. Pip Mattison, Robbie Parkison, Cathy Milani, Vicki Hull, Janie Brown and brother Mike were the guests. Scott and Jeff Tannehill were there too, but Scott was in bed (he's the very new brother) and Jeff was happy to watch things from the safety of his high chair.

John Sirianni had a birthday, too—his 7th. Billy and Pam Eagleton, Lana, Janice and Kenny Solbakken, Pat Murphy and Bruce and Danny Russo came around for games and refreshments, and everybody was very gay indeed. To add to all the excitement at the Sirianni domicile on 87th street, oldest son Richard came home from Ft. Bliss, Texas, for Christmas, and mother Agnes had a spaghetti dinner in his honor. Don and Edith Solbakken, and Don, Claire, and Marianne Tedson were the guests.

Neighborhood Party

The Don Childer's garage was the scene of the Ellis-Wildwood neighborhood party, and there were some gorgeous decorations. There was also some pretty terrific food, with everybody chipping in on the cookery end of it. Some 25 people ate, sang, talked and danced. You'll notice we put the talking before the dancing; that's because they did the Bunny Hop, and nobody has enough breath to talk after that!

The Vincent Murphys shared Christmas with Vi's family, who came down from Red Bluff. Vi's father raises birds, and left some 72 behind. He must have felt quite at home here, because Midway now has the Murphy Menagerie! Joining the two birds, the goldfish and the turtle are Lady and The Tramp — two dogs, of course! Lady is a purebred beagle, and Tramp—well, Tramp has some boxer in him, which is all anyone knows for sure! Happy New Year, Vi!

Citizens Hold For Status Quo

for residential property in Daly City is four per cent less than the county's assessment. Won't that result in a four per cent tax increase here?"

Stites answered "Yes, if we were at our maximum tax rate of $1, but the general fund rate is only 78 cents."

Next to criticize the proposed action was Arthur Bodien, former superintendent of the water department.

"I Forget"

Bodien, asked to give his name for the record, replied to the mayor, "You say so many things, sometimes I even forget."

"That remark was not called for," answered Verducci.

Bodien then suggested that the issue of turning over tax collecting and assessing to the county should be placed on the ballot as a referendum at the April election.

"I'm not going to give you an answer on that," said Verducci. "We'll do the best thing for Daly City. If it seems good, we'll vote for it."

Making his return to the council chambers after a long absence was Paul Green, one-time councilman and mayor who was deposed at the 1954 election.

"Stites says there'll be savings of $5000 to $10,000 by doing this. Is that an opinion?" Green inquired.

County's Cost

"The county's cost for such services would be about $3000 a year," related Stites. "At present we have two employees besides the clerk on tax collection and assessing, plus costs of postage and stationery. The clerk can give you figures on the cost of the job."

"Is that an opinion or factual?" was Green's reply.

"It's factual," said Stites.

"We had this problem many times," said Green. "Many times the county adds 10 or 15 of its own clerks and we wind up paying for them."

"The statutes fix the amount the county can charge us," the manager declared.

"But the statutes do not say how many new employees the county can hire," replied the ex-councilman.

Add One Figure

"But all they need to ad is one figure to the tax bill," revealed Stites. "There's already a number of items on the bill such as school districts and other special districts. And there's no difference in the assessing. All they do is send the council a statement of the city's assessed valuations once a year."

Ricco Lagomarsino, local builder and developer, said the $5000 or $10,000 a year savings "might be peanuts because the county might raise our assessments."

The manager said assessment by the county would actually help land owners like Lagomarsino, to which the developer said, "I'm not concerned with a few nickels one way or another, but they might raise individual taxes."

In order to enter contract with the county, the city must pass an ordinance in time for it to take effect by February 1, meaning that emergency legislation might be necessary.

Verducci directed Stites and City Attorney Frank Blum to proceed with drawing up the necessary documents so that in case the council voted in favor of the change, it could be effected by February 1.

ALL'S QUIET ON GARBAGE SITE FRONT

All was quiet on the garbage dump front at Tuesday night's city council meeting.

City Manager Howard Stites said he had nothing new to report in the city's effort to obtain a 74-acre fill and cover disposal site on the San Mateo county coastline.

Al Sereni, president of Daly City Scavengers, said he, likewise, had no new information.

Public hearing on annexation of the 74 acres of land to Daly City will be held January 9.

CITY REPORT SAYS MOVE IS ECONOMICAL

loss in revenue." It was the opinion of the authors of the survey that the small amount of tax savings gained by individual homeowners is not enough to warrant the ill feeling created by the extra burden upon commercial enterprises.

"More Rational"

"In the last analysis, the county's assessment policy is more consistent and more rationally derived than is the policy currently in force in the city assessor's (city clerk's) office," the survey observed.

It concluded that, "Should Daly City choose to adopt the county's assessment figures, it will be assured of an equitable assessment policy." This would mean an increase in total tax revenue, the document explained.

The survey showed that while the city assesses highest on land, "in nearly every instance in single dwelling areas the highest improvement (buildings) assessment is the county's, thus accounting for the county's usually higher total assessment."

While the study did recommend transferring the tax collection-assessment functions to the county, it did point out that, "There is little in the two jurisdictions' assessment practices to support or denounce the proposed transfer of responsibility. There is certainly nothing in the practices observed to connote inequities, suspicious abnormalities or flagrant inconsistencies." The best argument for transfer of the jobs are administrative, the survey commented.

Income Property

In the income property category, city assessments were shown to be substantially higher. As an example, the research showed that the city's mean assessment on land was 41.53 per cent of the estimated real value. On the same property, the county's mean assessment on land was approximately 15 per cent of the real value. The city's mean assessment on land represents a 30 per cent increase over mean assessment on single dwellings, while the county's figures show about the same assessment ratio for land as established in single dwelling areas.

"It would seem . . . that the county's assessments are quite routine, while the city's practices may be considered somewhat less normal," the survey observed.

In commercial areas, the study declared that the county's assessments were routine, while the city's assessments on commercial property were held "abnormally high."

"In fact," the survey continued, "In nearly every case the city's assessed value on commercial land exceeded the estimate real value of that land."

STICKING LOCKS

When car door locks stick or it becomes difficult to insert a key, don't oil them. Nearly all automobile door locks should be lubricated with powdered graphite only, says the California State Automobile Association. If in doubt, check with your dealer.

IT'S EIGHT IN ROW (LOSSES) FOR JEFF! BUT INDIANS STILL LOOM AS PAL POWER

With the Peninsula Athletic league basketball opener only a week away, Jefferson High school varsity can claim a string of eight straight—losses, that is—but still the league experts are picking the Indians to finish near the top.

A typical week's performance found the Jeffs losing three games to tough San Francisco teams, with the outcome of two of the contests decided in the final seconds. In nearly every one of their forays against the Big City talent, the Indians have lost by anywhere from one to four points, while other PAL clubs have been mopped up by the San Franciscans by fat margins.

Thursday the Daly City club tasted their worst defeat of the week in a 70-58 loss to Polytechnic. The Jeffs were in contention up to the last four minutes, trailing only 50-43, when the Parrots cut loose with a bucket barrage.

Use 12 Players

Coach Mike Orlich used a liberal quota of 12 players throughout the game, apparently sacrificing practice game victories to give some of his substitutes court seasoning.

Bill Curtis poured through his highest point output to date, 14, to lead Jeff scoring, as he showed accuracy on the long set shots.

Darrell Hutchenson was runner-up with 12, Larry Pottenger, 10, Tom Cloutier, Bob Comstock and Jim Honeywell, 6 apiece, and Ray Schultz, 4.

The local 30s dropped a 40-39 decision to the Parrots, after leading throughout the contest. The Daly City lightweights held a 12-6 first quarter advantage, 21-16 at half-time and 31-26 at the third quarter, but couldn't hit their hat in the final period.

Haanan Out

Absence of Barry Haanan at the pivot post hurt Coach Tony Giammona's club, as reserve center Dennis Marks was unable to outjump Poly on the boards.

Puzzy Firth and Al Dye tallied 10 points each to lead their team, while Gary Ryan and George Rocchi got 7 apiece, Marks, 4, and Stan Weld, 1.

After holding a 11-10 half-time edge, the Indian varsity faltered in the second half to drop a 33-32 contest to Mission Monday. Honeywell was missing from the line-up, and his appearance might have spelled the difference.

Pottenger, with 10, topped local scoring, followed by Curtis, 9, Vuillemainroy, 4, Comstock, Schultz, Hutchenson, and Cloutier, 2 apiece, and Delmar Scott, 1.

30s Drubbed

The local 30s were handed a 47-29 drubbing by the Mission five, which is ranked tops in the AAA circuit. Mission moved ahead, 16-7, at the quarter, held a 24-17 half-time margin and 33-21 at the third quarter's end.

Dye banged in 10 points to lead the Daly City cause, followed by Rocchi, 9, Marks, 6, and Ryan and Haanan, 2 apiece.

Washington squeaked by the Indian varsity, 40-38, Tuesday on the strength of two successful free throws in the final 30 seconds, after the Indians had gunned to a fourth quarter lead. The Washington club made only two field goals in the final quarter, but sunk 22 free throws during the game to account for more than half their total points.

Cloutier looked sharp in netting 9 points to claim honors for his club, while Ray Vuillemainroy notched 8, Curtis, 6, Hutchenson and Comstock, 4 each, Honeywell, 3, Pottenger and Schultz, 2 apiece.

The Jefferson papooses were handed their fourth straight loss, succumbing to Washington, 54-41, as they were never able to get close. Dye led the way for Daly City with 14 markers. Ryan got 9, Firth and Weld, 7 each, and Rocchi, 4.

The Daly City 30s now have three wins, five losses.

The Jefferson varsity will travel to CCSF today (Friday) to tangle with the jayvees in an afternoon contest.

The two Indian clubs will make their PAL debut next Friday against Carlmont and the smart money is picking the Jeffs to make it a clean sweep, despite their poor pre-season record.

SOCCER CHAMPIONS are these seventh and eighth grade boys from Colma school. Intramural league was conducted in two divisions, seventh and eighth grade, with nearly 200 youngsters taking part.

Golf Tips

By BILL McARTHUR
Professional, Treasure Island Driving Range

Proper Selection Of Clubs

Next in importance to knowing how to use a golf club is knowing what club to use. Learn to know the value of each club in your bag. By value, I mean the combination of distance and accuracy. Learn to know how far you can hit each club accurately. Providing you have a fairly complete set of clubs, (two or three woods, eight irons and a putter usually are enough) there should never be any reason to extend yourself when hitting a golf shot. If you feel that the club you have selected will have to be swung hard in order to give you the distance needed, the wise thing would be to use the next longest club. In this way you need only to use about 75 per cent of your power and can concentrate on hitting it accurately. There is nothing in the rule book or the score card that says you must use any certain club for any certain shot. Don't let pride overrule good judgment.

Those of you who play regularly at the same golf course no doubt realize that scores are generally lower there than at other courses. This is true more so with higher handicapped players than with low handicapped players. The reason being that high handicapped players depend too much on course familiarity while the low handicapped player depends mostly on the value of his clubs. The low scorer knows within a few yards what the distance of his average tee shot will be, also the distance of his better tee shot.

Since yardages of all courses are usually measured about the same, a good player knows that if the hole is 400 yards long and that his average drive is about 230 yards he still has between 165 to 175 yds. to go. Allowing for wind conditions he then selects the club he knows will reach the green without undue strain. This is what is meant when I say the good player knows the value of each club in his bag. He does not depend on landmarks of different holes.

A good example is shown in the way the touring pros will many times burn up a strange course. They realize that they cannot depend on landmarks, so they learn to depend entirely on the value of each club.

Practice swinging the same way with the same speed, not too hard and not too easy. Observe carefully the average distance you are able to hit each club. Keep these distances in mind when you play a strange course because if you don't know how far you can hit the different clubs, you will be pretty much at the mercy of the course you play.

Next week: "Trouble Shots."

North County Clubs Lose In Cage Tourney

Both north county entrants in the San Mateo county eighth grade basketball tournament got dumped last week in opening round of play.

John Browne's 14-point output paced Parkside to a 60-21 triumph over Daly City's Our Lady of Perpetual Help, while Tom Foley tanked 12 to lead Mount Carmel to a 41-21 victory over Sharp Park.

OLPH's top scorer was R. Cavellini with 16 markers, while A. Kepic potted 11 for the losing Sharp Park club.

Deny Court Costs In Westlake Dues Assessment Case

Attorney Allan Sapiro's request for court costs and other relief from the Westlake Improvement association for his six clients who are being sued by the association for back dues was denied by Superior Judge Louis B. Dematteis last week.

At the time Sapiro applied for the attorney fees, the judge gave him a number of days in which to file points of authority justifying his demands. Not having heard from Sapiro, the judge denied the fees at request of the plaintiffs.

Sapiro's action to protest the validity of the association directors is now a moot point, according to plaintiffs' attorney J. W. Jackson. Jackson estimated that the court would now close the issue, since new directors were validly elected with a legal quorum this month.

The association's suit to obtain back dues and assessments from the six homeowners has reached a stalemate, since fees to transfer the issue from municipal court to superior court have not yet been paid by the defendents, who sought the change of jurisdiction, Jackson added.

Cultivated, urban and industrial acreage in California totals 13,704,000 acres.

Marines Up Quota For 6-Month Plan

The Peninsula's 7th Infantry Battalion of the Marine Corps Reserve located at the San Bruno Navy Base, has just received an increase in their monthly training quota for the Marine Corps 6 month active duty training program. Major Benelli, battalion operations and training officer, stated that the increase in training quotas is designed to provide:

Those young men between the ages of 17 and 18½ who are finishing their high school education at mid-year, with the opportunity of completing their active military duty requirement prior to their entry into college next fall. After their initial six month tour of active duty, the reservist returns to his home community and remains in a draft deferred status as long as he participates satisfactorily in scheduled reserve drills and attends an annual two-week period of training duty.

Major Benelli said, "the six month training program is designed primarily for those young men of our local Peninsula communities who wish to keep to a minimum the time that they are required to serve on active duty, yet desire to fulfill their military obligation.

'Operation Santa Claus' Is Deemed Highly Successful

Aided by the Daly City fire department, Daly City Employees association, Telephone employees of 333 Grant avenue, Lions club, Rotary club, American Legion Auxiliary Post 410, Eagles Auxiliary 1848, Misbe-Haven Teen club and the North San Mateo County Insurance Agents association, the sixth annual Christmas fund drive of the local St. Vincent de Paul society was pronounced a great success.

"Operation Santa Claus" headed by Co-Chairman Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy met with a great response and everyone of the 212 children in 70 families were amply provided for with new toys.

Peter Markovich, co-chairman, who has been associated with the Christmas fund drive for the past six years, publicly thanked the organizations for their contributions.

"I feel certain that not one single needy family was overlooked and because of the wonderful support we received from organizations, groups and individuals, we were able to do more for our families than at any time in the past six years" Markovich said.

He also acknowledged with gratitude donations from the following: Attorney Thomas Gallen, Dr. L. B. Mahan, Dr. C. Mudrick, Attorney John Fahey, A. Milano, Daly City Lime & Cement Co., Edward Byrne, Brynes TV and Radio, James Donahue, DeSoto-Plymouth Co., Vincent Merlo, Joe Millett, Jr., Jim Cummins, Market St. Van and Storage Co.

Two things that make for SAFER driving!

The first and most important thing is you — the driver. The courtesy, care, and common sense you show count more than anything else.

The second thing is the car itself. All cars are safer today. That's shown by the number of accidents in relation to the number of miles passenger cars are driven. The figure's down sharply.

Chevrolet has always made safety a major consideration, introducing many such features as the all-steel top, into its field. And this '56 Chevrolet is the safest one ever built.

Its lively new power means safer passing. Its special Ball-Race steering—oversize brakes with Anti-Dive control—bring easier, surer driving. The Unisteel construction and safety door latches of its Fisher Body—the nailed-to-the-road stability that comes from advanced suspension and better balance — the sweeping panoramic windshield — all these things add to your safety.

Seat belts with or without shoulder harness? Instrument panel padding? Of course, they're available at extra cost. As your Chevrolet dealer, we'll be glad to show you the many safety features of the '56 Chevrolet.
